PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Thanks to the people who ran the October meeting in my absence.

I want to remind people who sign up for classes that the procedure is to pay for the class when you sign up. There were 18 people signed up for the Oct. class but only 8 actually participated.

We need to do better.

The Program Committee needs 1-2 people to assist. Most of the lectures and classes have been selected for the next 2 years but there is follow up that needs to be done. If we want good info and skill development then we need to take responsibility for making the programs happen. Please think about helping here and with the up-coming show committees.

September 2017 Challenge

A new challenge to stretch our thinking and quilting skills. Create a non-pictorial design that can be any shape with a perimeter of 80" or less
The design should not be one large block or recognizable repeat
It can be any fabric, embellished, applique, etc.
It must have 3 layers and be quilted
The outside edge does not have to have a traditional binding
Due date: the December meeting.

Program News

November's workshop will be The Sew-Together Bag, taught by Cheryl Potter. Quilters who signed up and paid are: Grace Moone; Jacqueline Ferrara; Anna Wang; Sue Marling; Te Pabon; Leona Willis; Denise Giardullo; Sarah Kessenich; Mary Mclaughlin; Sharyn Serrano; Jerrilee Relyea; Gail Carl; Dianne Valdivia.

The supply sheet and photos are all on the webpage. If the precutting is done before the class, the project can be completed during the afternoon.

The Program Committee has also decided to require payment at the time you sign up for the workshop. If, for some reason you are unable to attend, and if there is a wait list, your money will be refunded.
